The Ministry of Government Relations is seeking two Community Planners to join the Community Planning Branch in Regina or Saskatoon. This opportunity offers dynamic and challenging work supporting community development, sustainable infrastructure, asset management, and land use planning across Saskatchewan. Employees benefit from a competitive salary, comprehensive benefits including pension, vacation and leave provisions, flexible work arrangements, inclusive workplaces, and opportunities for career growth and advancement.

The ideal candidate is a motivated professional with strong analytical, problem-solving, and communication skills. They will be accountable, innovative, collaborative, inclusive, adaptable, and committed to public service excellence. The ministry is seeking individuals who can build effective relationships, work with diverse stakeholders, facilitate discussions, and provide sound planning advice to support community development and provincial interests.
Responsibilities include analyzing planning proposals, bylaws, and subdivision applications for compliance with provincial interests and planning standards; ensuring integrated inter-ministry approaches to community development, sustainable infrastructure, asset management, and planning; consulting with organizations and agencies on development issues and policies; identifying community development challenges; reviewing subdivision applications; conducting research; and preparing reports and correspondence.
